OUT ON THE LIMB with George Vierhus

FROM TIME TO TIME experts in various fields scare the daylights of Mr. and Mrs. Average John Doe by making sensational pronouncements about what the future holds in their particular spheres.

Sort of doomsday predictions, if you know what we mean.

As an example, according to a recent news release that hit our desk, "California's water plan is leading to widespread pollution and destruction of the state's resources and must be re-drafted".

That apparently is the conclusion of Frank M. Stead, described in the news release as a leading authority on environmental problems.

Stead is the former chief of the state's division of environmental sanitation and is the author of an article that appears in the summer issue of "Cry California", a quarterly magazine published by California Tomorrow.

In his story, Stead claims that the state's purpose and goals in water development have become obscure and filled with contradictory policies. If we follow the present state water plan we will do irreparable damage to the state's environment, he claims.

SENSATIONALISM HAS long been used as an attention-getter. As a cynical old newspaperman, we have long recognized that.

On the other hand, we get a little upset when so-called experts feel they have to resort to the shock treatment routine to get their points across.

Not being an expert in the field, we are at a disadvantage to know what percentage is pure sensationalism and what part is based on fact.

Now, take this story about the state's water plan.

Having grown up in this state we have long been acutely aware of the important part water plays in California whether in a rural or urban area.

Thus we are always concerned and interested when the water problem is discussed.

We had been led to believe (by experts) that the state water plan, which was approved by a vote of the electorate, was a practical solution to the ever-present water problem.

Basically it brings water from areas where there is a lot to an area where there isn't enough.

We thought the idea made sense.

But now along comes another expert and shoots the whole thing down.

And it is not very reassuring to any degree when that expert claims that the altnerative to the deficiency of the present state water plan is to admit our error in time and develop a new California water plan.

UNDOUBTEDLY THE AUthor of the article in the magazine knew he had to be a bit sensational and would have to exaggerate the situation considerably to gain attention.

On the other hand, there are enough grains of common sense in his presentation to give some credence to his theme.

He suggest that we are spending $2 billion to transport water from the Sierra to southern California areas where daily we pour into the ocean one billion gallons of water of better chemical quality than the water now imported from the Colorado River for use in the same areas.

He also submits that the state is committing this colossal blunder while alongside southern California lie an inexhaustible supply of water–the Pacific Ocean.

He adds also that this horrible water error in our state is the same kind which "destroyed every civilization in history which has attempted to build an irrigated agriculture on an imported water supply without providing for

Civic center drama repeats on June 6

Emotions run high on "tower"!

That "the tower" proposal was "immoral" and "an insult to the intelligence of the citizens" were among the charges made in emotional outbursts by opponents of the proposed 17-story civic center tower at the public hearing last Thursday conducted by the Planning Commission.

More such general accusations of a similar vein are expected to be hurled next Thursday night, June 6, at the city hall when the continued public hearing on "the tower" issue is again scheduled.

The motion to continue the hearing was made at 12:30 a.m. last Thursday after more than four hours of heated discussion had taken place over the most dramatic civic project ever presented in the history of this community.

The moral objections to the proposal were offered by Don Hebard who claimed that it was wrong for the city to become involved in a private development; that it would be detrimental to the downtown core; and that the city would be sacrificing its own civic center building design if it went into "the tower".

Dale Scott, a member of the Planning Commission and executive director of the Santa Clara County Taxpayers Association, took issue with Hebard's arguments.

Both Hebard and Scott took active parts in the successful city bond issue election last fall when funds were voted for a civic center.

Scott maintained that there was no binding committment made last fall as to the location of a civic center and the citizens should not be prevented from getting a better deal if one was presented. He added that it was not unusual for governmental agencies to have joint ventures with private industry, pointing out that many public buildings have been constructed in that manner.

The charge that the proposal was an "insult to the citizens" was made by Al Tofoya, E. Campbell Ave.

But Tofoya's statement received a poor reception even from the heavily-partisan audience.

When Lowell Grattan jumped to his feet to say he resented such a remark and that "Fred Sahadi was an honorable man", even the most avid opponent joined in the applause for Grattan.

Both opponents and proponents of the tower concept tended to get emotional at times during the evening. However, John J. Wilson, brought the matter into focus during the discussion when he claimed that, as a taxpayer who voted for the bonds, he was interested in getting the best for his money.

He pointed out that the report of City Manager Bob Stephens, which opened the hearing, indicated that on a comparison basis "the tower" offered the city a better deal. He was for that.

Former City Councilman Bob McElroy, claimed that the "image" of the city had been over-emphasized.

During the evening, a resolution was presented by Bob Dalzell, former president of the Jaycees. The JayCee resolution endorsed "the tower" concept.

Former Councilman Charlie Rose took the floor to question what was going to happen to the 200-acres in the down-

City attorney's report

Legal roadblocks plague "tower"

Legal roadblocks dropped by City Attorney Joe Bonacina at the City Council meeting Monday night could have a definite adverse effect on the dramatic proposal of Fred Sahadi that would locate the civic center in a 17-story tower at Campbell and Bascom avenues.

Conceivably the "roadblocks" may have "killed" the unique and exciting tower concept.

Whether Sahadi will choose to follow the strict ground rules laid down by Bonacina in a 28-page "interim" report was not known at press time.

The city attorney emphasized that, in his opinion, there could be no advancement of funds by the city until the proposed building was completed and the land and structure deeded to the city free and clear.

Bonacina, in his lengthy ruling, explained that he had conferred with Carlo S. Fowler, of Orrick, Herrington, Rowley and Sutcliffe, this city's special bonding counsel, and the "interim" report represented a meeting of the legal minds on the subject.

Bonacina explained also that it was an "interim report", however, and that the door was left open for continuous research.

The city attorney added that there was no legal precedent to act as a guide which caused concern among the attorneys. The county counsel, John R. Kennedy, expressed the same feeling in a letter to Bonacina. Kennedy, explained that while being unique was not necessarily a liability, it did pose a problem.

In addition to recommending in his report that the building must be up before the city should put up any money, it was also stipulated that the city should have control of the terms of the lease of the building.

Another condition would be that an independent report of future space requirements would be part of the proposal.

The attorney also suggested that it would be adviseable because it was without legal precedent to obtain a judicial opinion through a court case.

And finally it was suggested that the issue could be referred to the people as an advisory measure.

City Attorney Bonacina, after making his report, suggested that no further negotiations should be carried on between the developers and the city unless a new proposal, following the attorney's recommendations, was submitted by Sahadi.

He also added that no further staff time should be spent on the proposal until that time either.

In the proposal submitted jointly by Sahadi and the City renames streets

Two streets in town on Monday night received new names from the City Council.

In one case, the frontage road that will be constructed on the easterly side of the SP tracks created by the San Tomas Expressway project became Dell Ave. by act of the Council. The street extends north from Sunnyoaks and connects with Camden and is actually an extension of the present Dell Ave.

In the other case, the Council approved changing the name of Casey Road to Curtner Ave. for the strip that connects the present Curtner with Camden Ave. to conform with the policy set by both San Jose and the County.

The Planning Commission had recommended the name-changes.

In another action, the City Council on Monday night stood firm on the present city policy that allows Planning Commission members to live outside the city.

Only Mayor Bill Smeed voted for the policy change that would require the commissioners to reside within the city limits. Mayor Smeed said that he felt that the city was large enough now so that qualified personnel would be found within its limits.

Before the vote on the policy, a report was submitted showing that four cities, Los Gatos, Saratoga, Cupertino and San Jose, that were adjacent to Campbell all had the residence requirement for commission membership.

Voters cast ballots in primary Tuesday

Voters in California at the polls next Tuesday, June 4, in the primary election will elect delegates to the national conventions and also decide a strictly county issue pertaining to financing expressways.

In addition, the voters will "nominate" candidates in the congressional, assembly and various state senate races as well as for the U.S. Senate.

They will also vote for such non-partisan offices as superior court judge, county supervisor and for Flood Control and Water director and for two statewide bond measures (veterans and junior college).

In San Jose, voters will also cast ballots on the city hall location and voters in Santa Clara have two strictly city measures before them.

All in all, it is a pretty full ballot.

On the national side, Gov. Ronald Reagan heads the "favorite son" delegation for the Republican ticket. Three delegations are contesting for the Democratic vote, Robert Kennedy, Eugene McCarthy and Thomas C. Lynch.

Max Rafferty is challenging U.S. Senator Thomas Kuchel on the GOP ticket while Alan Cranston apparently will be the top man on the Demo

Saratoga WV campus uses natural beauty

By SALLY HOWE

Parents of tomorrow's West Valley College student, who finds himself fortunate enough to be assigned to the Saratoga campus, [illegible] ant surprises when they visit the blossoming young campus.

Instead of the sterile, severely landscaped formal school which they attended and in which their youngsters for the most part were educated, WV is constructing a picturesque, completely functional school on 143 acres of rolling hills, complete with massive oak trees, a natural waterway, and outdoor amphitheater on Allendale Ave.

Most of the school is presently "on paper". But an Engineering Technology Building is due for completion August 15. This unique and practical facility is designed on several levels to compliment the surrounding terrain.

It contains lecture halls, specialized classrooms, faculty offices, a temporary library and home economics section.

All utilities for a future dental lab have been included in the building and one of the lecture halls is so designed to be partitioned for two classes of 34 students or for one group of 68.

A nursery workshop will highlight the economics rooms, where students can observe the activities of pre-[illegible]oolers.

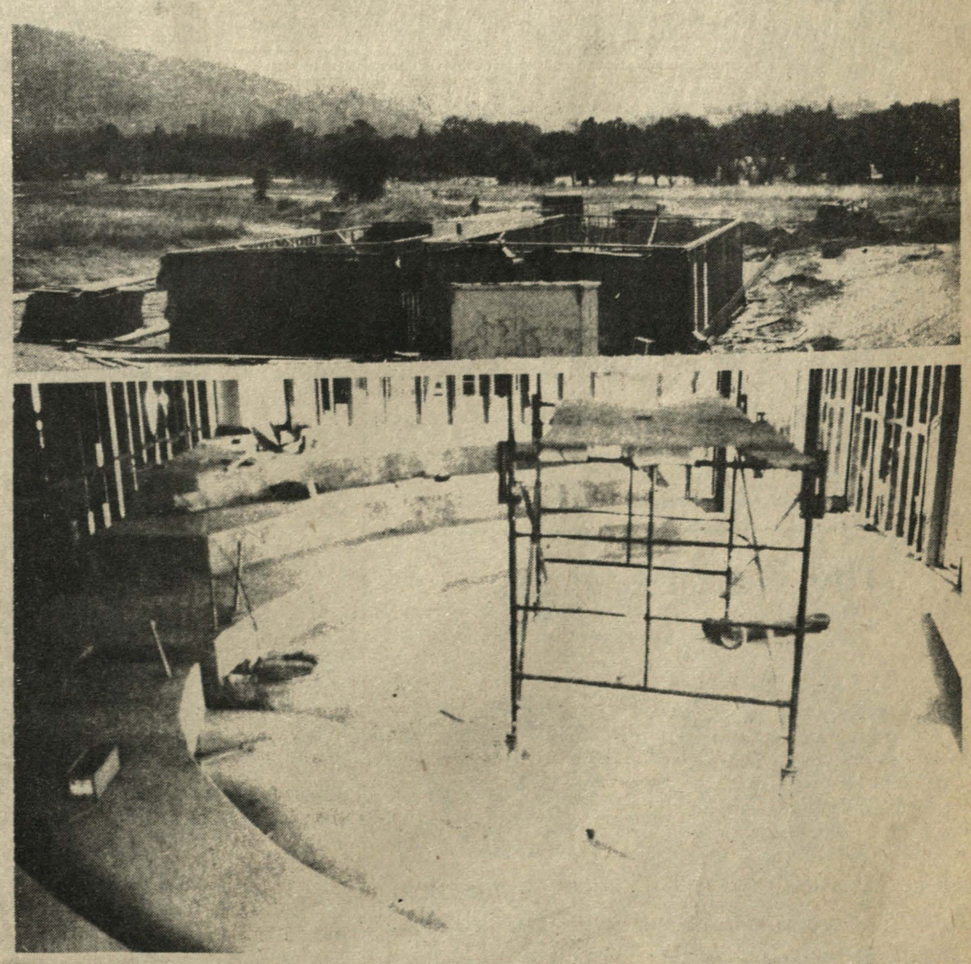
In addition to the main building, an underground "vault" to house all the campus utilities is nearing completion and parking for 822 cars and a perimeter road will be ready for fall.

Athletic facilities for the campus are planned "over the hill" from some of the academic classrooms. Relocatable buildings to contain shower and locker rooms will be ready for fall.

Ten residences acquired with the property are still standing. Several have been rented on a temporary basis. One of the tenants is a school district employee who "keeps an eye" on the premises.

Several of the houses will be used for storage, one for a student union, and another will be an office for the coaches.

Future growth of the campus will undoubtedly rely on passage of bonds by the district. Three previous attempts to secure approval from voters resulted in failure to achieve the two-thirds margin needed.



SARATOGA CAMPUS–(Top photo) The relocatable buildings that will house shower rooms and lockers on the West Valley College Saratoga campus. The trees in the background line the athletic field complex.

The lower photo is the lecture hall which can be divided into two rooms in the engineering-technology building. The building is scheduled to be completed Aug. 15.

Editorial

Vote "NO" on "A"

Listed as County Measure A on the June 4 primary election ballot is an initiative measure which seeks to repeal the equitable county vehicle license fee that is imperative for the continuing financing of the county expressway program.

If the vehicle license fee ordinance is repealed it will mean that the financing of the expressway program will be shifted to the already over-burdened property tax payer. In our opinion, the vehicle license fee is extremely fair because it provides for those who use the expressways to help pay for them.

We sincerely urge a "NO" vote on Measure A, for we think the ordinance as it now stands is one of the most equitable means of financing highways yet devised.

In our opinion, the success of Santa Clara County's unique Expressway Program in unquestioned.

Six years ago voters cast their ballots against mounting traffic snarls by approving a $70-million bond issue to launch the first phase of a 25-year program to build a county-wide network of high-volume, moderate speed thoroughfares.

For the City of Campbell, directly, this first phase meant the construction of the San Tomas Expressway which, even now, is being completed to the Bayshore through the City of Santa Clara.

Indirectly, Campbell's citizens benefit by the convenience which the entire system affords.

If we are to keep pace with the demands of growth and preserve a healthy county economy, we must now continue with this nationally-heralded program.

Measure A on the June 4 primary election ballot threatens the Expressway Program and would leave the job less than half completed.

An affirmative note for Measure A would mean, in Campbell, that the San Tomas Expressway would not be widened with additional lanes, as is otherwise planned; it would not be landscaped, as would otherwise be the case; an interchange with grade separation and "square loops" would not be constructed to serve the burgeoning traffic demands at Hamilton Avenue; and, the Rincon Avenue pedestrian separation would not be constructed immediately even though it ha been approved by all agencies involved.

The issue is not whether Expressways are needed. Obviously they are.

They will continue to be and they can and hopefully will provide the backbone for a mass transit system of the future.

Buses will require a network of thoroughfares, if a county-wide transit system is to become a reality.

The question is one of financing--how to pay for future county expressway construction.

We believe the county's choice of a local vehicle license fee, graduated according to vehicle value, is the most equitable and feasible method.

It will result in a pay-as-you-go program saving millions in bond interest costs. It will let those who benefit from an efficient road system--the vehicle owner--pay the cost; and, significantly, it will shift expressway financing away from the already overburdened property tax.

Vote No on Measure A.

Proposition 1

Proposition 1 on the state's June 4 election ballot will continue the Cal-Vet farm and home purchase program from which so many thousand veterans of World War I, World War II and the Korean War have met their housing needs.

We believe that the young men returning from the Vietnam War deserve the same benefits which their fathers and grandfathers received when they came home from the wars.

A quarter of a million veterans have become property owners through the program since its inception in 1921. No General Fund moneys are necessary for the operation and maintenance of the program. All expenses are borne by the participating veterans.

It has proved its worth in the 46 years of its existence.

We urge a yes vote on Proposition 1.

the exportation of minerals equal to those in the incoming water to maintain a 'salt balance'".

He maintains also that there are two basic flaws of the present plan: (1) It provides facilities to bring water into areas but provides no parallel facilities to remove water thus ground waters are polluted; (2) Each type of use loads the water with additional chemicals which must be removed or the water will eventually become unusable.

REALLY WE DID NOT mean to become so absorbed in this water question.

But, you know something, we became quite concerned in reading the report, not only because of the charges made but also because it illustrated so vividly how dependent we have become today on "experts".

The difficulty arises, of course, when the experts themselves don't agree.

Then one just can't figure which way to fly.

And that's just about the way we stand on this water question.

We have long believed that the Pacific Ocean offers the ultimate solution to the problem for our state. But that seems to be still a long way off.

We thought our state water plan was a progressive step....

We still do...But Mr. Stead's article raises some points that we would like to have answered.

By another "expert" of course.

NEXT TUESDAY, JUNE 4, is the primary election in California and considerable interest naturally has developed in some fields.

Of course nothing like what will be the case come next November when all the chips are down.

But still there is quite a bit going on the primary vote.

That brings up an interesting academic point we were discussing with Norman Paul, ad advertising and public relations professional and active in local civic activities.

Norm is handling the re-election campaign for Supervisor Della Maggiore of the second district which extends into Campbell on the east side of town.

Paul wondered if the paper was taking any stand in the primary election in the endorsement of candidates.

We explained that is has been our policy in the past to refrain from any primary endorsements because it meant partisan voting the naming of two people, one from each party.

We preferred that the "nomination" take place in primary and then we would make our endorsement of just one candidate in November.

We also suggested that we had always believed that officially the primary election was merely a nominating election even for non-partisan candidates. If a non-partisan candidate, such as for supervisor, received 51% of the vote in the primary, he would be "nominated" and would have no opposition in November when he would be officially "elected".

Norm claimed that a non-partisan candidate would be elected in the primary, if he got 51% of the vote.

According to the county registrar of voters, Norm is right.

If "Big Sam", for example, gets 51% of the votes (there are four other candidates in the race), his name won't even have to appear on November's ballot.

That is quite a chore..but it can be done....and just might happen.

ANOTHER NONPARTISAN office that is up for grabs is that of Superior Court Judge (office No. 9).

In this case, too, it is possible that one of the five candidates could get 51% of the vote and be elected next Tuesday...

But that is less likely, in our opinion, than in Della Maggiore's case.

In this Superior Court race, we favor the elevation of Municipal Judge James B. Scott to the higher bench. He has an excellent record of judicial service, the practice of law and also as a city councilman.

On the editorial page, we urged approval of the statewide bond issue to provide junior college facilities (State Measure 2).

We also earnestly urge a NO vote on Measure A which would repeal the present expressway financing program from vehicle license fees. (You must vote "NO" if you are in favor of the present system.)

-0-

THERE ARE ONLY A few contests for party nominations. But these are only preliminary events.

The main bouts will take place in November.

For example, Congressman Charles Gubser faces Dr. Joseph L. Pace for the GOP nod in the 20th district. Dr. Pace is the former San Jose mayor who was soundly defeated by Mrs. Virginia Shaffer. Mrs. Shaffer, by the way, is running for Republican nomination for state senator.

Charlie Gubser should have no trouble deposing Pace.

U.S. Senator Tom Kuchel is being challenged by Max Rafferty, state superintendent of schools on the Republican ticket. He, too, is expected to get the GOP nod quite easily.

Frankly we got more involved in this column than we intended about the primary election.

But then what else is new?

FOR THOSE OF YOU who wanted to know why the JayCees had the flags up in town on Saturday, May 18, it was Armed Services Day.

We had to find out, too.

Proposition 2

Proposition 2 on the June Primary Ballot will be a bond issue for junior college construction.

The $65,000,000 authorization will provide urgently needed state assistance to California Public Junior Colleges for building, construction, equipment and site acquisition.

In 1962 and 1964 the electorate voted $70,000,000 state bonds for junior college construction, out of which West Valley Joint Junior College District has been entitled to, and is receiving, $4,735,000, or 6.8% of the total appropriation.

West Valley College, as a young and rapidly growing institution, expects to receive a substantial share of the $65,000,000 proposed in Proposition 2.

Without the previous state bond issues the construction on the Saratoga campus would have been impossible. Passage of Proposition 2 will insure the continuation of the present and planned construction of West Valley College.

The need for junior college facilities in California, and particularly in the West Valley Joint Junior College District, is imperative.

We urge a Yes vote on Proposition 2 on June 4 ballot.

town area, "if everything was moved out".

In reviewing his proposal to the city, Fred Sahadi, who recently acquired the 34-acre Brynteson Ranch at Campbell and Bascom avenues, emphasized the accessibility of that area compared to the so-called downtown core.

He said that Bascom would be eventually widened to 120-feet and Campbell Ave. to 90-feet. He claimed that without the so-called loop system (one-way streets on either side of Campbell Ave.) the present streets (Campbell and Central) would be inadequate to serve the civic center.

It would cost at least $2 million to build the loop system, Sahadi explained. He wondered where such money would come from.

Sahadi, in answer to charges that the proposed "tower" would be too far to the eastern city limits, pointed out that it was exactly .4 of a mile from the present city hall.

Sahadi's dramatic proposal was made last month and since then it has become the center of attention.

The 17-story tower would be erected in a joint venture of Sahadi and Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel Co. The steel firm has had a superstructure for a 17-story building fabricated for several years. It had been scheduled for a building that had not materialized.

The tower would be adjacent to a unique Spanish-styled cultural-commercial center that is planned for 20 acres of the Brynteson Ranch.

Involved in the proposal are the many legal ramifications. Planning Commissioner Scott thought that it was highly irregular and unorthodox, in his opinion, for City Attorney Joe Bonacina to have originally given an "off-the-cuff" oral opinion.

Scott was also particularly incensed over the fact that Bonacina had made an "interim" legal ruling but had not notified the Planning Commission of what it contained, although Hebard apparently knew what was in it.

The commissioners in continuing the hearing until June 6, indicated they would like to get more information. However, a number of them appeared willing to vote last Thursday.

Indications seem to be that the Planning Commission will make a recommendation to the City Council on June 6 and then forward it to the City Council.

Before the city can officially take action, the City Council will have to decide which way to go. This decision will also be made after a public hearing is held.

For Congress, in the 10th district, Charles Gubser, a congressman for 16 years faces a minor challenge from Joseph Pace. Grayson Taketa appears as the strongest candidate on the Democratic side.

In the state senate race, (13th district) Alfred Alquist, incumbent, heads the Demo slate with Mrs. Virginia Shaffer, San Jose councilwoman, appearing to be the strongest of the Reps.

In the 25th assembly district, John Vasconcellos is the Democratic incumbent with Jack C. Dorwin and Alf Modine seeking the GOP nod.

In second supervisorial district, which extends into Campbell on the east side, Sam Della Maggiore, long-time supervisor, has four challengers, Don Cortese, Andrew Diaz, Hal Rogers and Robert Stroughter.

Five are seeking the office of Superior Court Judge No. 9. On the ballot are Municipal Judge James B. Scott; Municipal Judge Paul R. Teilh; Mrs. Renee Baum; John Schatz; and Robert M. Kaiser.

Measure A on the ballot is the county expressway measure. An affirmative vote would repeal the ordinance that provides the expressway financing program for the county from the vehicle fee.

Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel Co., it was stipulated that the city would receive three acres free and clear in any part of the 34-acre former Brynteson Ranch that the city would desire for a civic center.

The developers then would construct a 17-story building on the land and the city would pay them $1,235,000 in installments as the construction progressed.

The developers then would provide a performance bond of $1,235,000 guaranteeing full performance of the developers' undertaking.

The city would occupy and use the first four or five floors of the building, comprising more than 30,000 square feet and the developers would hold all the building other than the first four or five floors under a master lease for a term of 55 years for a rental of $1 per year.

The city would receive an easement for parking purposes in that portion of the developers property adjacent to the civic center site and the developer and city would each be responsible for maintaining that portion of the building they occupy.

B of A offers film on California

A colorful documentary film entitled "California", has just been released for local showings, O.S. Sorenson, Don Kennedy, managers of the Bank of America branches in Campbell have reported.

Sorenson, manager of Bank of Americ a's Hamilton-Plaza branch, said the film offers a fresh and offbeat look at the state.

The 30-minute documentary was produced by Wolper Productions of Hollywood, one of the top documentary filmmaking organizations in the world.

"California" was undertaken by Bank of America as a public service "to present a current, well-rounded picture of the state in all its strengths and weaknesses," Sorenson noted.

The film is available free of charge to any civic organization, service club, school, church, or similar group.

Interested groups may contact Sorenson or order the film through any Bank of America branch.

Recent wedding vows exchanged

MR. AND MRS. CRAIG JANES

Pamela Lenore Hayes and Craig Robert Janes exchanged wedding vows recently in the Assembly of God church. The lovely brunette bride wore an off white sheath dress with a lace coat as she was escorted down the aisle by her father, Russell Hayes. Accenting her ensemble was a bouquet of white carnations with an orchid corsage centerpiece and a shoulder length veil.

Preceeding the bride as maid of honor was Miss Kathy Hayes gowned in pink with an orchid corsage. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Herbert Johnson with Mrs. Alice Johnson at the organ.

The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hayes of 1316 Juanita Way, is a student at Westmont High School.

Craig is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Austin Janes, 1786 Regina Way. A graduate of Westmont High school, he is presently employed by Maxdon construction. Serving as best man was Dean Morgan with Leon Hayes and Fred Lueck as ushers.

The bride's home was the scene of the reception immediately following the wedding, and the young couple are now making their home in Los Gatos.

Ballon makes 3 hour trip across the bay

Saturday, May 25 was a fine day for a birthday party for seven year old Lori Jones in San Rafael across the San Francisco Bay. Lori and her eight little friends gathered in the back yard of her Marin county home, wrote and signed a note and attached it to two helium balloons. Then, as the breezes blew, they watched the balloons drift out of sight across the bay. This was at 4 p.m.

At approximately 7 p.m. the same day, Miss Lillie Carney, 89 E. Rincon Ave. noticed something bobbing around on top of her clothes line. The balloons with the note still attached, had come to rest in Campbell, after approximately a three hour trip.

The note, which the recipient shared with the Campbell Press, read: "This note was attached to a helium balloon which we let go at my birthday party. If you are the luclty (sic) person to find the note would you please send it bach (sic) to us and tell us where you found it. Our name and address are as follows: Thank you. Signed Kim Hosse, Jack Harding, Eric Koslin, Lee Ann, Louena Frigault, Cidy, Lori Jones, Cathy Jones and Doug Jones.

And just to make a nice ending, Miss Carney celebrated her birthday May 22.

On June 6, 1968 some 600 Camp Fire Girls representing schools within the Campbell High School District will gather at the First Baptist Church Amphitheater off Almaden Expressway at 7 p.m. to recognize all group and individual achievements for this school year.

A choir of 60 girls from Athenour, Lietz and Ross Schools will perform. The highlight of the evening will be the awarding of some 60 Individual Torch Bearer candles to junior high and high school Camp Fire Girls. These awards were earned in 13 fields of interest and represent months of work on the part of each girl.

John, who was Camden high school senior class president in 1967, is the son of Mrs. Alva Jane Garvey, 2242 Shamrock Dr., Apt. 3. He is majoring in art.

Moose to take on Little League

Donkey Baseball time is here again and this time the Campbell Moose Lodge No. 1811 will tangle with the managers of the Campbell Little League teams in what will probably prove to be a hilarious pitting of skill against donkey stubborness.

In the game a "runner" must be mounted on a donkey at all times when going from base to base. After making a hit, the man at bat mounts his donkey and attempts to head him in the general direction of first base. The donkey quite often has other ideas and anything goes from there on out.

The "event" will take place on Memorial Day, May 30, at the Campbell Little League Park on Hamilton Avenue. Game time is 1 p.m. and tickets will be available at the gate.

Managing the Campbell Little League team will be Bob Holeman with Tenny Tougas heading the Moose players.

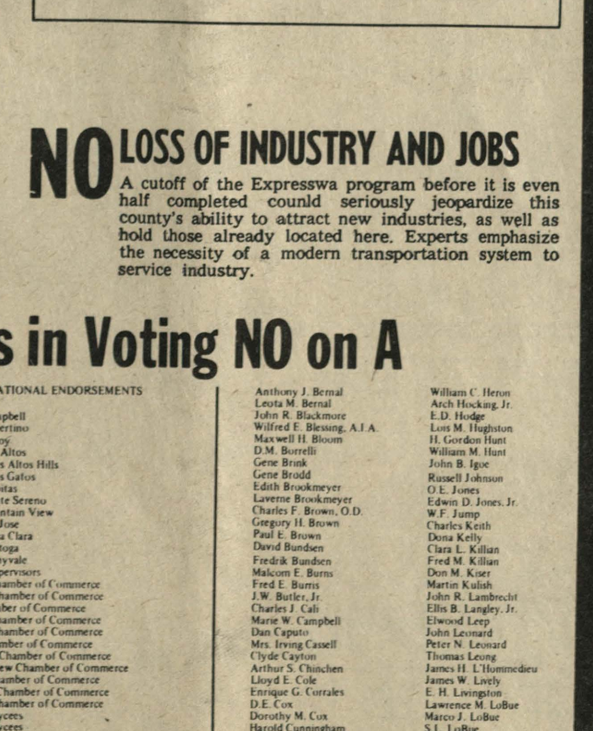
Don't Halt Expressways Halfway

VOTE NO on A

NO NEW PROPERTY TAXES FOR ROADS

The alternative to the graduated $3 to $10 annual local vehicle license fee, a true user tax which is under attack by Measure A, is a general obligation bond issue that would be placed on the property tax in the amount of $114 million. This would cost the average home owner or renter about $15 a year for the next 20 years.



NO NEW TRAFFIC CONGESTION

Unless a resounding No Vote is given Measure A, this county's planned 110-mile expressway system could be stalled at 42 miles with major work remaining to be done in all sectors of the county to keep traffic moving smoothly.

NO TIME WASTED IN TRAFFIC

The average motorist saves some 30 minutes travel time daily as a result of the county's unique expressway program, a half hour a day that accumulates over a year of extra time in a lifetime. Another week a year to spend with one's family or increasing earning power or simply relazing, instead of tied up in an irritating string of automobiles.

NO MONEY WASTED ON INTEREST COSTS

The "pay-as-you-ride" system inaugurated with the local vehicle license fee keeps the money available strictly for road purposes. If a general obligation bond issue were used in today's inflated market, interest costs alone would cost the homeowner more than the fee.

SANTA CLARA COUNTY EXPRESSWAY SYSTEM

The countywide expressway arterial system, outlined in this sketch, will total 110 miles when completed. Thus for 42 miles have been constructed, although future rights-of-way hove been acquired.

A No vote on Measure A will provide funds to complete construction of the expressway network.

NO DRAIN ON REVENUE FOR OUTSIDE PURPOSES

The local vehicle license fee income is limited by state law to expenditures strictly for county expressways. The money cannot be spent for state or interstate routes such as Highway 17 or Junipero Serra Freeway. The money is limited strictly to solving the county's traffic problems.

NO LOSS OF INDUSTRY AND JOBS

A cutoff of the Expresswa program before it is even half completed counld seriously jeopardize this county's ability to attract new industries, as well as hold those already located here. Experts emphasize the necessity of a modern transportation system to service industry.

Camden Capers

By Caren Daniels

Highways, beaches, mountains, and all areas of vacationing will be lively this week-end as local schools take a four day holiday to celebrate Memorial Day. Because the day of rememberance falls on Thursday this year, school boards in the community have declared an extra long week-end for the students.

AWARDS ASSEMBLY

As a send-off to the week-end, today was the Awards Assembly. Held in the football stadium for all students, honored seniors were presented with various certificates and scholarships for outstanding achievements in their high school careers. Prizes ranged from art winners to the Security Savings and Loan Scholarship, awarded to Roger Heath.

Combined efforts from the Camden Pep and Marching Bands, orchestra, and A Capella choir provided the musical entertainment for Friday night's annual Spring Concert.

Under the direction of G. Benner, the groups performed, singularly and together, selections along the lines of contemporary and traditional songs. The $1 admission will go towards completing the payments on recently-purchased uniforms.

COLLEGE BOARD

The University of Santa Clara was invaded by approximately 25 Camden juniors as they spent an afternoon at the College Planning Conference.

Held Wednesday, May 22, the conference was conducted to provide high school juniors, before entering their senior years, with realistic information to aid them in making intelligent and thoughtful decisions about the future.

Two afternoon sessions were attended by Camdenites, who were lectured on fields of study, and the career opportunities within these fields. Discussion groups covered a variety of areas including law, pre-medical and pre-dental fields, history, music and economics.

SPORTS

Camden's first place varsity baseball team tallied a win and a loss in last week's WVAL league competition. Tuesday's match against the Branham Bruins proved a victory for the Cougars, with pitcher Rich Troedson striking out eleven batters in a row, and fanning a total of 17 for a final score of 2-1.

The loss came Thursday when the Del Mar Dons aced an 8-3 victory. Pitching efforts from Lynn Langfeldt couldn't pull the win.

AGA finals for softball and badminton were held Saturday at Los Gatos. Camden's 'A' and 'B' softball teams, captained by Carol Daniels, Joyce Ruiz and Caren Daniels, respectively, were eliminated after losing two of the games they played.

Three doubles teams placed in the badminton rally. Winning teams from Camden were Pat Eschbacher and Nancy Shaw, first place in the B division; Cathy Bradford and Laurie Maffey, second place in the C division; and Karen Shirton and Laura Hicks, second place in the D division.

MONTEREY TRIP

A dream came true in May for 34 members of Girl Scout Troop No. 55, Rolling Hills School, when their trip to a motel in Monterey really happened.A year of saving, anticipating, and fund raising was climaxed recently with a "new look" in camping-deluxe accommodations and a heated swimming pool. The girls planned their itinerary, which included a visit to Dennis the Menace Park, selecting restaurants compatible to a budget, touring historical sites, and shopping at Fisherman's Wharf and Carmel.

COURT OF AWARDS

Troop No. 55's school year officially ended May 22 with an in-troop Court of Awards. All the leaders were surprised with thank-you gifts, and Mrs. St. Germaine was also given a going away gift for her imminent trip to New York as a representative of Santa Clara County Girl Scout Council. Movies of the Monterey trip by Mrs. James Riley were a special treat. Leaders of this troop, looking forward to summer activities, are Mrs. James St. Germaine, Mrs. Nino Candelaria, Mrs. Thomas Slankard and Mrs. Rose Anderson.

TROOP NO. 593

Watch out Mother Nature–here they come! Forest Hills Jr.'s, Troop 953, are heading for Camp Shelley for the long weekend. Exploring the out-of-doors, cooking over an open fire, sleeping under the stars and just having fun in general is Girl Scouting. This camp-out will also be a "farewell" party for the 6th grade girls who will be stepping up to the Cadette level this fall.

YOSEMITE TRIP

Troop 420, Capri Jr. Scouts will climax their year with Court of Awards and potluck dinner Wednesday, May 29. Their leader, Mrs. Keith Kaldenback, plans to take the Troop's three 6th graders camping in Yosemite June 7-8, as a special send off to the Cadette program.

ADULT POTLUCK

June 3 marks the date for a "Leader's potluck" at Vasona for all the adult volunteer leaders of Neighborhood 15. Close to 70 leaders, representing 34 troops in this neighborhood, can reflect on the "fruits of their labors". It has been a full, worthwhile and genuinely rewarding year under the very capable direction of Mrs. David Evans, Neighborhood chairman. Leaders have tried to stress the home, community, arts and of course, the out-of-doors. Indeed–there are –wonderful "worlds to explore"!

Plans set for young art students show

Fifteen very young Campbellites will be "on display" soon.

Young art students of Mrs. Paul Mauldin, 105 Amato, are having their very own art show June 8-9 at Wagners Fine Art Gallery in Saratoga.

Melanie Hitch, Lori Lawson, Kinta Gallman, Jill Alexander, Jimmy, Earl and Margret Hart, Moura Clawson, Diane Gowman, Charlene Haussler, David Gilbreth, Larry and Cindy Rowland and Susan and Lindy Mauldin are students in grades 2-5 and have been taking lessons from Mrs. Mauldin this past year. As reward for their diligence they'll have a reception each day along with their art show.

Summer art classes conducted in Mrs. Mauldin's home will commence shortly after the close of school. Media will include paper mache, pottery, and tissue paper techniques. A special class just for boys, especially those interested in earning scout badges will be held.

Classes became a reality after Mrs. Mauldin, a college fine arts major, found that her Brownie troop activities had developed into regular art sessions.

Local men win spearfishing championships

San Jose Skin Divers, a local diving club and member of the Central California Skin Diving Council, hosted the Council's annual spearfishing championships at Anchor Bay last Sunday. Of the four classifications in the meet, San Jose Skin Divers won the men's "A" and "C" divisions, and placed second in the women's competition.

The members of the men's winning "A" team are Don Barthman, Carl Krupanski and Terry Maas, with a total of 312 points. Terry Maas also scored highest individually in the meet with 106 points. The winning "C" team is comprised of Bob Bevins, Merlin Rhodes and Don Thompson.

Both Merlin Rhodes, 930 N. Central Ave., and Don Thompson, 449 Sunberry are students at West Valley College. The "C" team finished with 116 points, with biggest fish honors going to Don Thompson for his 17 pound lingcod.

The "A" team, by winning their class, will represent the Council at the National Spearfishing Championships at Carmel this summer. All the fish will be donated to a charitable cause.

Obituaries

STEVEN ZUCROFF

Military funeral services were held Tuesday for Marine Cpl. Steven D. Zucroff, who was killed in action in Vietnam May 13 near Quang Nam.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Zucroff, 3857, the 21 year old Marine was serving his second combat hitch. Zucroff was a veteran of 2½ years service in the Corps, having already served in Vietnam for one year, and had returned for a second year in April, 1968.

Other survivors include a brother, Bradley Zucroff, a sister, Amanda Zucroff and his grandmother, Mrs. Christine Grantier, all of Campbell.

Services were held at Golden Gate National Cemetery in San Bruno.

EDWARD MERCER

Prayer services were held this morning for Edward Charles Mercer, 16 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mercer, 4903 Vanderbilt Dr. who drowned Sunday while swimming in the Guadalupe Reservoir.

The Westmont student was at the reservoir with his family and a companion when he attempted to swim from a raft to the shore. Apparently tiring, he called for help but nearby rescuers who tried to help were unable to aid him before he drowned. His body was recovered off the west side of the reservoir by a party of four skindivers led by Lt. Wes Johnson of the Santa Clara County Sheriffs department.

A native of San Francisco, he is survived by his parents, three sisters; Diane Marie, Beverly Ann and Sherri Lynn; a brother, David Bruce and two grandmothers, Mrs. Margaret Lynch of San Francisco and Mrs. Anna Mae Mercer of Ill.

Holy Rosary was recited Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Campbell Memorial Chapel with the final resting place in Los Gatos Memorial.

They're called the Bobbysoxers and they really exist. The girls play Monday through Thursday evenings from 6 to 8 p.m. at Amber Drive School. They range in age from 9 to 15 and there are four "major" teams and four "minor" teams.

One of the advisers, Paul Biddle of 19 Hunt Way, invites anyone "interested in seeing some good ball" to come and watch.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

As this is written (May 22) Washington, D.C., is a city gripped in fear. Suburban residents are purchasing hand guns at an unprecedented rate and nighttime bus service is almost nonexistent because drivers have refused to work until protection is provided them. Four Washington merchants and a bus driver were murdered within one week and crime of all types has dramatically increased.

It is easy for some to blame the "Resurrection City" encampment beside the Mall's reflecting pool as the trigger for all this violence, but such a conclusion would not be fair.

Though legitimate questions can be raised about the advisability of allowing a shanty town with its health hazards to be erected in a historically sacred area, the fact is that the poor people have every right to come to Washington and present their views to the elected Representatives. As one of those Representatives, I intend to listen.

The real reason for the current wave of fear in Washington is that the city has not been given time to recover from the riots which "couldn't happen here". With the memory of the looting and rioting so fresh in Washingtonians' minds, it is natural for them to view the poor people's encampment as a possible forerunner of a miserable weekend like that which followed the assassination of Martin Luther King.

If ever there was a time for clear headedness, coolness, and deliberate thinking, that time is now. So we should focus our attention more on what caused the recent riots than upon the marred landscape of "Resurrection City".

The WASHINGTON POST surveyed the first 119 adult suspects brought to court during the recent riots. The survey showed that the "typical" suspect was about 29, had completed his junior year of high school, and has a job paying about $85 to $95 a week. Only thirteen of the 119 were unemployed, which is about one half the unemployment rate reported by the National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders in its study of twenty-two disturbances last summer. (Unemployment in D.C. is well below the national average.) Five of the 119 were university students, two were college graduates, twenty-seven had graduated from high school and nine had attended college.

So the problem which caused the riots was not a lack of jobs or education. Rather it was the fact, as the POST survey showed, the rioters held low status jobs. In other words the problem is underemployment and not unemployment.

This supports a view I have held for a long time that upgrading human skills by vocational education and teaching work habits on jobs which businessmen are encouraged to furnish is the real answer to poverty and a large part of the answer to racial problems. This is the purpose of the National Manpower Act of 1968 which I have introduced. It emphasizes job training and education, encourages private industry to participate in training programs and offers tax incentives. It deals directly with the underemployed and and hardcore poor as recommended by the National Advisory Committee on Civil Disorders.

APPOINTED MANAGER--Selling and servicing more than $1 million of insurance to San Jose area residents during 1967 has qualified Robert L. Friedman for appointment as division manager for the San Jose agency of the Prudential Insurance Co.

A native of Thayer, Mo., he is a member of the National Association of Life Underwriters and an alumnus of San Jose State College.

He, his wife Lee, and their four children reside at 1155 Arnott Way.

Pre-registration takes place at WV College

Pre-registration for the Fall Semester in both Day and Extended Day classes at West Valley College is "going full blast," according to D.R. Ziegler, Dean of Admissions and Records at the college.

Students who wish to return as Day students may pre-register every Tuesday or Thursday, either at 9:30 a.m. or 1:30 p.m. in his office on the campus, Ziegler said. Deadline is June 14 for returning Day students.

Extended Day students may pre-register in the Admissions and Records Office between 6 and 8:30 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, until August 9.

All those wishing to enter are urged to pre-register early, since space will be at a premium, and class choice will be limited to late registrants. Students must show their Social Security card as a necessary adjunct to completing registration, Ziegler said.

REMEMBRANCE--Cpl. Fred Schutz, Campbell, reminisces about Bob Hope's Christmas visit to Viet Nam, when the comedian presented a scroll of Christmas greetings from West Valley College.

Schutz attended the college in 1965 and was "shocked and thrilled" when the presentation was made. Listening as he recalls that moment are (left) Kenneth Steffen, Monte Sereno, who conceived the idea of the scroll, and Jerry Girdner, dean of student personnel services at the college.

West Valley College schedules summer recreational program

West Valley College will offer two summer recreational programs commencing in June. The first will be a Basketball Summer League for high school graduates and other young men from throughout the district.

The League will be conducted on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 6:30 to 10:30 p.m. for eight weeks in the Campbell High School gymnasium. It is anticipated that this program will begin about June 18.

Participants will be divided into eight teams. Each team will participate in a shortened game on each of the evenings in which the recreational program takes place.

The second summer recreational offering will be a five week program designed for the novice golfer. This program will take place at the Pruneridge Golf Course Driving Range at Saratoga Avenue and Pruneridge in Santa Clara on Monday and Wednesday evenings commencing June 17. This program is designed to be of purely recreational nature and will include demonstrations, explanations, films as well as some individualized assistance from various golf professionals. The final two meetings of the program will involve an actual nine hole play-off.

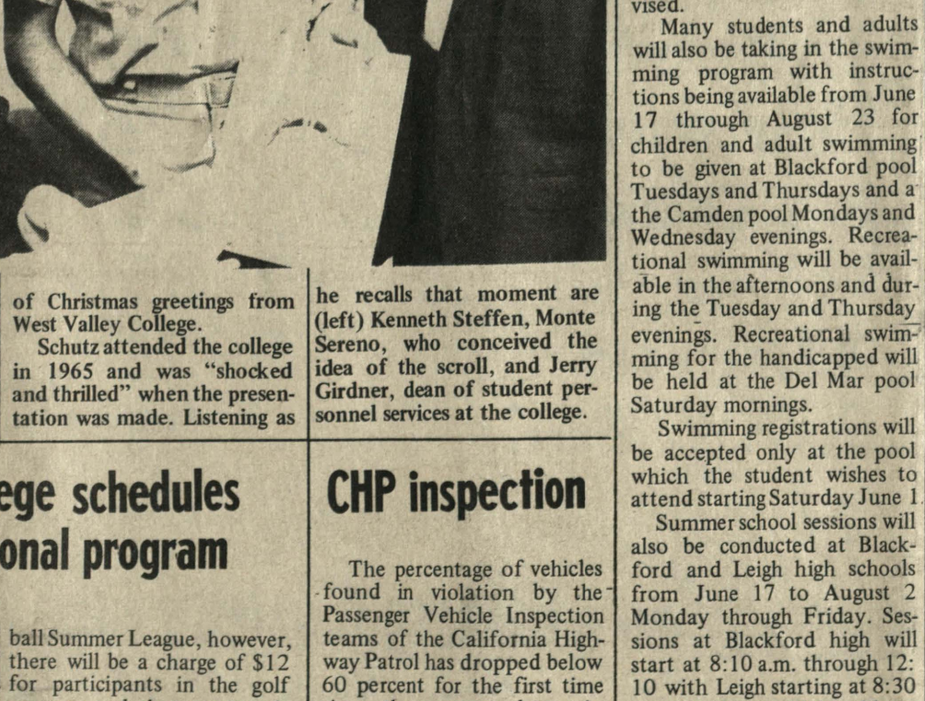
There will be no charge for participation in the Basketball Summer League, however, there will be a charge of $12 for participants in the golf program and that program is limited to a total of 45 participants. Both programs are offered by the Office of Community Services at West Valley College.

For further information you may contact that office at 379-1733.

CHP inspection

The percentage of vehicles found in violation by the Passenger Vehicle Inspection teams of the California Highway Patrol has dropped below 60 percent for the first time since the program began in 1966.

In March this year only 593 of each 1000 vehicles inspected were in violation of any of the 12 items checked. In August of 1967 the number of vehicles in violation in each 1000 inspected was 667.



MOVING RIGHT ALONG--This is the second phase of West Valley College's new Engineering-Technology building going up on the Saratoga campus. The first portion of the building is nearing completion and will be ready for fall occupancy.
